

Kaomi Goetz
Seoul, South Korea
kaomig@gmail.com

EXPERIENCED JOURNALIST

Professional Summary

I am a 15-year award-winning public radio journalist. I've worked as both a bureau reporter and within a newsroom, covering news events in a variety of areas including race and ethnicity, business, education, politics and the arts. I'm hardworking, dependable, a self-starter with an insatiable drive for the truth and to uncover stories that make a difference.

Work Experience

Fulbright Program Spent 10 months as a U.S. Senior Scholar reporting on the experiences of Korean adoptees in the Republic of Korea. Through feature stories and a profile podcast series, covered topics that include adoption, reunions with biological family, citizenship and cultural identity.

WSHU Reported on local, regional and national news stories from New England's "Gold Coast" and adjacent region to the Greater New York City area. Worked as a bureau reporter and covered business, education, transportation, the arts, environment and immigration. Was a frequent contributor to National Public Radio.

Michigan Radio Worked as solo bureau reporter covering an 11-county region for the largest public radio station in the state. Covered stories on education, politics, social justice, economy and immigration. Served as station representative at public events in the region. Won numerous awards including 2005 Best Hard News Feature – Radio for feature on gay struggle for marriage equality.

Skills Knowledge

Adobe Audition + ProTools software, Marantz PMD 661 recorder, iPhone recording

Education

Master of Science, Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism, 2001.
Bachelor of Arts, St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minn., 1993.